December 1985

Message from Dr. William A. Shields

The theme of this year's Caritas is a movie motif. This, it seems to me, is an appropriate format for a college yearbook.

Because it is such a versatile medium, the cinema has the unique ability to catch the many moods of the human spirit. It can elicit sadness and joy, humor and seriousness. It can take us on flights of fancy or give us doses of reality.

Just as it is able to effect so many varied responses, the medium itself comes in an array of types; drama, comedy, documentary, short subject, avant garde, etc.

A college, a campus community, is composed of a myriad personalities, perspectives, motivations, dreams and ambitions. It is a kaleidoscope of creativity and knowledge, of science and art, of form and substance. Therefore, a movie motif seems an effective means of portraying the many aspects of college life.

The Caritas staff has done an outstanding job of capturing this multifaceted subject.

FIRST ARGOS

The Era of the Argos

The ancient ones tell of a time long ago when the era of the Argos began. The year was 1968 A.D., and the ancient ones say that a drastic change began to occur here in the land of the College of Great Falls. The College became larger, and its populace began to feel a deep sense of unity characteristic of the early years of a nation. The elders of the land of the College decided to encourage these feelings of allegiance by forming a group of warriors known as the might Argos who would carry the banner of the college to many distant lands.

Many of the college's finest citizens donned the Argonaut uniforms. They travelled far and wide in search of the treasures of competition and victory. They also searched for the golden sheepskin which they discovered at the end of many years of hard work. Those who joined the ranks of the Argos wore their uniforms with pride and honor. The Argos were often victorious, and their first year brought them the ultimate victory. They also occasionally lost, but they always showed great spirit and obeyed the code of sportsmanlike conduct. The Argos formed a tradition which was continued for many years.

As the older members of the Argos put their uniforms aside, the younger generation eagerly answered the challenge. Times changed; however, and the elders of the college decided that the era of the Argos must be brought to a close. Thus it was that, in the year 1985 A.D., the Argos became only a legend. The memory of the mighty Argos will live on in the legend which will be passed down from generation to generation in many a song and many a hearty toast!

As the Editor of this year's Caritas, the yearbook of the College of Great Falls, I would like to extend my personal appreciation to my staff for their efforts and accomplishments. I would also like to thank all of the other volunteers for their ideas and diligence.

This year's theme of motion pictures promises to be one of the best productions of any Caritas staff!

Since I can name but a few, I would like to thank the following for a job well done.

Debbie Lawson
David McDonald
Kevin Sukut
Robert Bartram
Karen Fettes
Jan and Kent Isom
Pat Ingraham
Pam Mills
and ALL the others

I hope that all the editors that follow me in the years to come will have as much pleasure and satisfaction in their endeavors, with as much dedication from their staff.

Thank you all,

ROBERT G. BUTLER, JR.

NATURAL GAS — IT'S STILL A GREAT BUY

The average customer in our service area pays 47 cents per day per person for all the natural gas they use. Forty-seven cents . . . what else can you buy for so little: A cup of coffee? Half a pack of cigarettes? A candy bar? Or half a gallon of gasoline? What does that 47 cents worth of natural gas buy you?

- Hot water whenever you need it
  - A warm home when it's 40 below outside
  - Heating for cooking, baking and clothes drying
  - 24 hours emergency service for your gas appliances
  - A clean and efficient product delivered to your home sight unseen 365 days a year
  - Energy audits
  - No-Interest Plan Loans
  - Information on the latest efficient gas equipment
  - Assistance in obtaining aid in paying your bill
  - The Budget Plan
- Credit . . . you don't pay for natural gas until after you have received it
- 47¢ A DAY . . . NATURAL GAS
GIVES YOU MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
